KNIGHTS OF HONOR.

Celebration of the Eighth Anniversary of Marion Lodge No. 601.

The eighth anniversary of Marion Lodge No. 601 Knights of Honor, which occurred at their hall, corner of Vermont and Mississippi streets, on Tuesday evening last, was a very pleasant affair indeed. The programme was long and varied. There were sixteen numbers, which for the most part were well rendered. The salutatory, by Mr. Charles M. Cross, a member of the order, was appropriate and well chosen, and made a creditable showing for the Lodge. Mr. Cross is a very modest gentleman but has keen sense of the proprieties, which he, as master of ceremonies, clearly showed. Professor Hibben was next on the programme, and gave some good selections on the piano, in a manner very creditable to himself. Mr. Thomas H. Clapp, Grand Dictator of the State, then gave a carefully prepared address on the rise, progress and purposes of the order at large. The statistics which he cited made a flattering exhibit for the "Knights," and must have been pleasing to the membership present. Altogether it was a "meaty" address, well delivered. Mrs. J. J. Cole, well known as one of the foremost of Indianapolis' favorite soloists, then sang "When the Stars are Shining Bright." This carried the audience captive, and she responded to an encore with "No, Sir," a very gem of vocal humor, rendered in her happiest vein. A recitation, "The Inventor's Wife," by Hanna Cohen, was a splendid thing well rendered, and called forth a warm approval from the audience. She responded with "How Girls Study." The Mendelssohn Quartet—Mr. Frank Ketcham, Mr. Charles Evans, Mr. Harry Sikes and Mr. Walter Evans—was the next number. These are excellent voices, which, with proper training, are destined to bring honor upon their possessors. "Pyramus and Thisbe" was the title of a recitation by Miss Lena Dutcher. The recital of this met with favor to the audience, although your reporter was of opinion that the subject was not worthy of the fair candidate for elocutionary honors. A duet by Mrs. Ida G. Scott and Mr. Frank Ketcham came next. Mrs. Scott has a pleasing voice, and Mr. Ketcham, it is enough to say, perhaps, is a member of the Mendelssohn Quartet, mention of which has already been made. They were at a disadvantage in not having an accompanist. Following came Little Mabel Barrack with a recitation which, like that of Hanna Cohen, was "A No. 1." The keen comprehension of the character of the piece, her easy manner and superb diction made her thoroughly at home in entertaining "Big Sister's Ban" as well as a favorite with the audience. A trio by the Winter Brothers, in plantation dialect, was not only amusing, but "an up." Little Willie E. Price followed with another recitation. The subject was good and the rendering modest and unassuming. Messrs. Neighbors and Walker were down for a harp and tip duet, but for some cause failed to respond.

Mr. Hugh Campbell then heaped honors upon himself in a recitation in the German dialect, which met with a hearty response by the audience. He was called back and in response gave the "Dutch Twins." He was indeed happy in both selections and execution. The closing ode by the society was omitted, and Darious Green and his flying machine, by a young man whose name your reporter unfortunately did not learn, was substituted. There is little room in this piece for elocutionary display, and it should not belong to the repertoire of any one at all zealous for such honors. On the whole, the Lodge is to be congratulated, and in the language of "Rip," "may you live long and prosper."

Indiana's Credit.

Speaking of Indiana's credit in the East, Mr. Walter Stanton, the gentleman who recently purchased the State bonds, yesterday said to the reporter of an evening contemporary: "It is excellent—none is better," said Mr. Stanton. "And she has floated these bonds at better rates than any other State ever did. Indiana has the least debt, in proportion to her extent and population, of any State in the Union, and is in the best financial condition. Her debt is at present about $1,700,000, and the rate of taxation to pay the interest will only be about seven-eighths of 1 per cent. Ohio has a debt of over $6,000,000. I regard these Indiana bonds as good as Government bonds, and they are so considered in the East. Indeed, I thought so well of them that I have kept $85,000 of them as a private investment, and may yet keep more. Your State has the reputation of being very carefully and economically managed, and Indiana securities will always rank high."

Federal Court Work.

The Federal Court Grand Jury will meet on Tuesday and remain in session till the 18th. The District Court Jury will then meet and the parties indicted by the Grand Jury will be tried. There are quite a number of cases to be tried which are held over from last term. There are twenty-eight Federal prisoners now in jail in this and other counties awaiting trial. Something over 200 witnesses have been summoned to appear before the Grand Jury.

Alleged Wife Desertion.

Frank Johnson, dealer in farming implements at 67 West Washington street, is in receipt of information which leads him to believe that J. S. Bunt, for some years past an employee in his business, has deserted his wife and has appropriated about $125 of Mr. Johnson's money. Bunt boarded at 80 1/2 North Pennsylvania street, and his landlady is in receipt of letters which indicate that he has deserted his wife. No cause is assigned.

Prize Declaration.

The exercises in connection with the prize declamations of the Classical School were attended by a fair audience at the Grand Opera House last night, and proved very enjoyable indeed. The declaimers were Oscar Anderson, Harry Baldwin and Robert Bryce, and the prizes were awarded to the first two, in the order of their names. The declaimers were followed by gymnastic exercises by pupils of the Erie Classical School.

A Flat Contradiction.

We are credibly informed that certain would-be competitors have represented to us that we send our goods away from the city to be made. We flatly contradict this statement and are prepared to prove that said would-be competitors lied, both willfully and knowingly, as it is a well-known fact to all tailors that we employ more first-class workmen than any other tailoring establishment in the State. We court honorable competition in business, but when other merchants can not compete with us by fair means and use such base and false methods, we apply to them the old proverb: "A drowning man will catch at a straw."

We are still here, have all our garments made here and guarantee fit and workmanship to be strictly first-class.

See prices at which we sell marked on goods in our show windows; that is what hurts our would-be competitors and makes them squeal and lie. The Globe Tailoring Co., 22 West Washington street. T. M. Stuart, Manager.

A Firm of Fitters.

Artistic tailoring is the charmer that cheats deformity of its homeliness. Messrs. Egan & Treat dress the form so as to display its graceful curves and hide at the same time the ill-looking angularity. Such a consummation is a triumph of the draper's skill.

Mr. Charles Simmons, the well known grocery clerk in the city, has taken a position with J. A. Fennell, 244 West Washington street, where he will welcome all his old friends and as many new ones as will call.

A PUZZLE!

WHICH IS THE LEAST,

"Less More" or "More Less?"

For instance. If the Ladies' Button Shoes we propose selling this week at 95 cents should fit nice and the style please you and you would recognize the fact of a saving in that one purchase of 50 cents, would the pecuniary benefit accrued thereby equal the pleasure derived by this action. In other words, suppose the Men's Working Shoes we open out to-morrow at 85 cents were all to be piled on the sidewalk in front of our store, would it not be cheaper to buy a pair than to steal them? Or, should a man wait on the curbstone until he was presented with a pair of the Child's Shoes we throw out at 25 cents, and a gray hair appear every fifteen minutes, at what day and hour would he be totally grey-headed, allowing the stars on Monday, at 9 o'clock, with 2,000,000 brown hairs? Another way would be to argue with you on the matter of economy, for while the Ladies' Serge House Slippers we "drive" on to-morrow possess all the merits of a shoe double the price, the leading question of this article calls or draws on merely a minute part of your common sense, while the Slippers in question cost but twenty five of them.
